“WIRE TRUST” HEADS ARE INDICTED

Federal Grand Jury Returns Nine True Bills Against Prominent Men.

[illegible]

Unlawful Conspiracy Resulted in Arbitrary Prices Is Allegation.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Nine indictments charging restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman antitrust law were returned by a federal grand jury here this afternoon against as many associations and a long list of individuals comprising the so-called “wire trust” affiliated with the steel industry.

Prominent among the defendants are Herbert L. Satterlee, a son-in-law of J. P. Morgan; William P Palmer, president of the American Steel and Wire company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, and Frank Jay Gould of New York, president of the Old Dominion Iron and Nail Works company.

“What this suit charges,” District Attorney Wise said, “is a trade agreement in restraint of trade.”

The government does not seek to establish a physical or financial merger of the properties or interests indicated but a series of pools to maintain prices and apportioning territory in elimination of competition.

Thus the suit appears as a further earnest effort of the government's determination to deal rigorously with restrictive trade agreements.

There is no indication that evidence gathered by the bureau of corporations in its investigation of the steel corporation played any part in the indictments. Only two of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation are mentioned, namely, the American Steel and Wire company and the Trenton Iron company.

Those Who Are Indicted.

Among some of the prominent individuals named as officers of the companies composing the alleged pools are the following: Frank J. Gould, president of the Old Dominion Iron and Nail works of Virginia; Herbert L. Satterlee, Habershaw Wire company; William P. Palmer, president of the American Steel and Wire company; Charles F. Brooker, vice president of the Ansonia Brass and Copper company, and a member of the Republican national committee from Connecticut; Henry G. Stoddard, president of the Trenton Iron company; Frank N. Phillips, president of the American Electrical works and Ferdinand W. Roebling of John A. Roebling Sons and company, and Philip H. W. Smith, second vice president of the Standard Underground Cable company, Pittsburg, Pa., Oakland, Cal., and Perth Amboy, N. J.

Associations

The Horse Shoe Manufacturers association

Bare Wire Copper association.

Weatherproof and Wire Magnet association.

Lead Encased Rubber Cable association.

Wire Rope Manufacturers association

Fine Magnet Wire association.

Underground Power Cable association.

Telephone Cable association.

Rubber Covered Wire association

The general charges in all the indictments are the same. Thus one indictment reads:

General Charges the Same.

“Because said corporations at all such times have been and in fact now are, separate and distinct from each other, their said interstate business . . . should have been . . . conducted by each strictly on a competitive basis, and would be so conducted but for the unlawful conspiracy hereinafter mentioned.”

It is set forth that the various associations organized under their association names had each elected a supervisor. An arbitrary rating was determined, it is charged, by the ratio of output for an agreed time, each member was obligated to pay $5,000 or less into a fund called “the general deposit” and in case any member failed to abide by the regulations his deposit was forfeited.

Raw materials were bought, it is alleged in one indictment at arbitrary and noncompetitive prices to be agreed upon by said defendants being prices lower than those for which the respective corporations would be enabled to purchase said raw materials but for the unlawful conspiracy herein described.

In the indictment against the Bare Wire Copper association it is charged that the corporations forming the association produced [illegible] per cent of the entire bare copper wire consumed in the United States and that they had absolute control of the price.

ONLY ONE SERIOUSLY HURT

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 29.—A more thorough investigation made this morning of reported victims of the collapsing seats at the Cole & Rogers circus last night shows that only one person was seriously hurt. This was J. Burr, whose right leg was fractured. The injuries of others reported hurt turned out to be only severe bruises and contusions.

NOTED LAWYERS TO GIVE TALKS

ANNUAL MEETING TODAY COLO. BAR ASSN.

Chief Address This Evening by Frederick N. Judson, Eminent St. Louis Atty.

With the president's annual address by Charles D. Hayt of Denver, former state supreme justice, and addresses by N. C. Miller of Grand Junction, former attorney general of Colorado, and Frederick N. Judson of St. Louis, the members of the Colorado Bar association will be kept busy today at Broadmoor, where it will hold its annual convention. Prominent lawyers from all parts of the state will attend the two days' meeting.

Manager W. D. Brinker of Broadmoor Casino has invited the members to catch their own trout from Broadmoor lake, and this novelty is expected to prove a most enjoyable feature.

Mr. Miller will talk on “Growth of Federal Power” this afternoon, while Mr. Judson's subject tonight for the annual address is “The Progress of the Law in the United States.”

FREDERICK N. JUDSON,
Eminent St. Louis Attorney, Who Will Deliver the Annual Address Before the Colorado Bar Association at Broadmoor Tonight.

Judson's Career.

Mr. Judson has been one of the leading lawyers of the Mississippi valley for the last 20 years, and is the author of several text books upon the law, now in general use. At the last term of President Roosevelt he came into prominence in connection with the investigation of rebates given by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Attorney General Moody appointed Mr. Judson and Judge Harmon, now governor of Ohio, to investigate the charges against the Santa Fe railroad and to bring prosecutions upon the same. As a result of the investigations, Judge Harmon and Mr. Judson recommended that criminal prosecutions be brought against certain officers of the road, one of these being at the time a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet. The President interceded to protect his cabinet officer, whereupon both Judson and Harmon resigned.

Mr. Judson's name was prominently mentioned in connection with the appointment of a justice of the supreme

MEXICAN BANDITS BURN A PRISONER AT STAKE

SHAWNEE, Okla., June 29.—Robert Swazy, a Canadian, was burned at the stake by Mexican bandits near Fort Sumner, N. M., on June 15, according to a letter received here today from Mrs. Emma Bingman, formerly of this city, and mother-in-law of the dead man.

He was killed because he refused to reveal the hiding place of a large amount of money that had been left in his care by a Mexican railroad which employed him, the letter said.

Mrs. Bingman has notified the British government of the case.

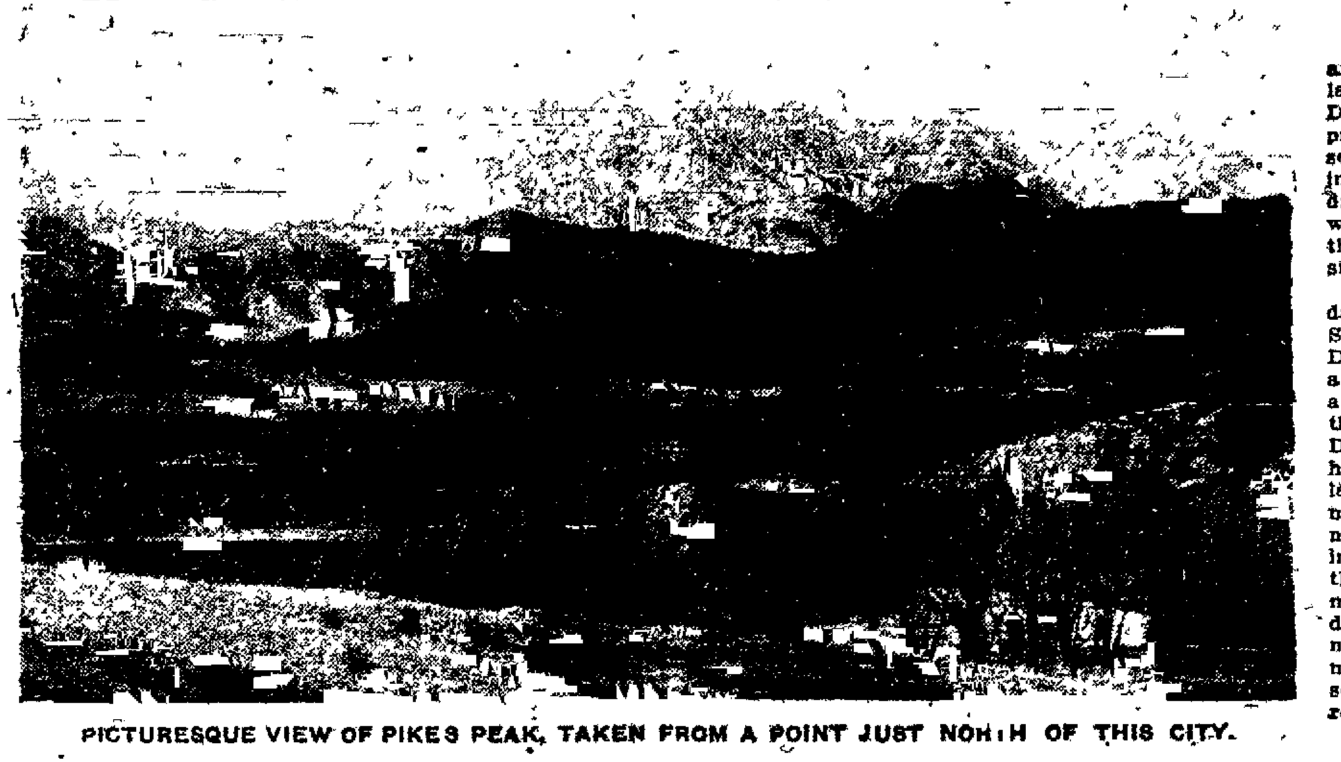
COLORADO PIONEER DEAD

DENVER, June 29.—Adolph Schinner, 80 years old, pioneer of Denver and member of the first legislature of Colorado, died here today. Mr. Schinner came to Colorado in 1860. He was one of the founders of the town of Eudora, Kan. Prior to going to Kansas he worked as a printer in Cincinnati and Chicago. [illegible] in the center of Denver's residence section known as the Schinner addition was laid out by Mr. Schinner. Recently Mr. Schinner had been engaged in the raising of blooded cattle on a ranch he owned east of Denver.

NOT TO FILE SUIT TO TEST CITY'S CHARTER

GRAND JUNCTION, June 29.—It was announced today that the proposed suit to test the charter of Grand Junction will not be filed. The fear that it would prevent the construction of the new water system is the reason for this action.

Chamber Commerce Gives Away Thousands of Postcards Tomorrow Bearing This Picture



PICTURESQUE VIEW OF PIKES PEAK, TAKEN FROM A POINT JUST NORTH OF THIS CITY.

The Chamber of Commerce campaign to advertise the beauties and advantages of the Pikes Peak region by means of 100,000 postcards, to be given away by the thousands on each Saturday in July, begins tomorrow. The postcard to be furnished all comers tomorrow bears a beautiful reproduction of a photograph of Pikes Peak, taken from a point north of this city. The accompanying cut shows the reproduction, which gives an excellent idea of the majesty and grandeur of the scenery around Colorado Springs.

The cards to be distributed on the other four Saturdays of the month will bear pictures of the Garden of the Gods, High Drive, Monument Valley park and the Ute Pass road.

On each card is printed the following:

“The Pikes Peak region is America's playground. Vacation days in this land of blue sky and invigorating summer climate will satisfy your most exacting demands. There is a greater variety of grand scenery within walking distance of Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou than in any similar area in America, and it is more easily accessible. You can climb mountains, ride over excellent roads, visit great natural scenic wonders, follow mountain trails, picnic, camp and fish, play golf or any other favorite sport, and enjoy to the full every minute of your stay. And remember that it is cool here. Even in July and August you will need blankets at night. I have been asked by the Chamber of Commerce to invite you to come and enjoy the best summer climate and grandest scenery in America. Summer carnival and aviation meet, July 31-August 5.”

Message Requires 2 Cents.

It is important that those contemplating sending away the cards remember that a 1-cent stamp will carry it, providing there is only the signature of the sender written thereon. Any other writing than the signature necessitates the use of a 2-cent stamp. In other words, any message written on the card requires a 2-cent stamp.

It is also important that the cards, which have cost no small amount to prepare for free distribution, should be sent to persons who will be willing either to boost for the Pikes Peak region or to come here themselves.

CARNIVAL AUTO PARADE [illegible] “BIGGEST EVER”

Arrangements for the big automobile parade the first day of the carnival are progressing fast. It will probably be held at 11 o'clock the morning of July 31, and from indications it appears that hundreds of cars, belonging to both resident and nonresident owners, will be in line. Nonresident owners, in particular, have expressed their appreciation of the idea of decorating their cars with products emblematical of their state. That the decorations will be among the most showy ever prepared in this city is already assured.

Handsome silver loving cups will be given as prizes for the best decorated cars. This incentive alone will bring many into the race.

All arrangements are in the hands of the carnival committee, and those desiring information are requested to telephone carnival headquarters, in the Hagerman building. Members of the committee said yesterday that if the citizens support this proposition of the automobile parade as well as they formerly supported the former “flower parades,” its success is assured. That its success is certain, even now, however, can easily be gathered from any of those in touch with popular sentiment on the proposition.

FINDS RECIPROCITY OPPOSITION [illegible]

CHICAGO, June 29.—That the lumber interests are the only organized opponents to reciprocity with Canada, is the opinion of Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, who has completed a trip of several thousand miles along the northern boundary of the United States in making a study of the situation.

“I was surprised to learn that opposition to reciprocity is so slight,” Mr. Wheeler said today. “Farmers are in favor of the agreement and my conclusion based upon talks I had with men of all classes is that the lumber interests are the only ones actually opposed to the agreement.”

CHIEF JUSTICE CAMPBELL, OF COLORADO SPRINGS, ILL

DENVER, June 29.—Judge John Campbell, chief justice of the supreme court of Colorado, became suddenly ill while attending a conference of judges in chambers today and was removed to his home in an [illegible] condition. At his home it was stated that the [illegible] had called [illegible] his condition is regarded as rather serious. Justice Campbell's home is in Colorado Springs. He has served on the bench for 18 years. He has been in delicate health for some time.

Tonight Mrs. Campbell stated that the judge was resting easy and appeared considerably improved.

[illegible] of this city, brother of Justice Campbell, said last night that reports of his brother's illness are greatly exaggerated. He declared that Justice Campbell was merely prostrated by the heat, and that no serious effects are feared, so far as he knows.

FORMALITIES CAN [illegible]

No Objections Have Come Up to Signing English-American Compact.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—All formalities necessary to the final conclusion of the general arbitration between America and England could be completed within four hours, assuming that the machinery was working properly and smoothly, was the official declaration today. The differences between the two countries now relate merely to phraseology and can be adjusted readily. The British ambassador has full power to sign the treaty and the administration so far has failed to find any signs of objection to the compact on the part of the Senate.

It is stated that notwithstanding an impression to the contrary, the treaty conserves to the utmost the constitutional powers of the Senate in treaty making, and that every question to be submitted to arbitration must first receive the approval of the Senate. But it is pointed out that the very negotiations of the treaty will almost certainly have the effect of lessening the number of issues to be arbitrated.

This is explained by the fact that through the creation of a commission of inquiry, composed of disinterested members of The Hague tribunal, most of the issues that may arise between the two governments can be settled satisfactorily by the adoption of the findings of that commission and without the necessity of proceeding to arbitration.

France Ready to Act.

Unofficial advices indicate that the French government is practically ready to enter into treaty relations with America on the basis of Secretary Knox's proposal, and it is hoped that action may be had in that direction soon after Ambassador Jusserand, who is now on his way across the Atlantic, arrives in Paris and has had an opportunity to confer with the foreign officials.

Nothing definite has been heard from Germany since the Knox proposal was handed to Ambassador Bernstorff upon his application. Holland has also been furnished with a copy of the projected treaty and other nations are showing marked interest in the subject.

An interesting feature of the projected treaty is the provision for the reference of issues to a tribunal which is so framed as to forecast the creation of a permanent court of arbitration toward which the administration is working steadily.

PIONEER, AGED [illegible], DIES

John Robert Jones, aged [illegible], a resident of Colorado Springs since [illegible], died at his residence [illegible] South Wahsatch avenue this (Friday) morning. Mr. Jones was a contractor and had erected several buildings that remain to the present day.

He came to this country from Wales in 1854 and settled in Detroit.

He is survived by a son, Edgar P. Jones, and two daughters, the Misses Sarah A. and Eleanor J. Jones, all of this city.

MANY M[illegible]

Advertising Progress Is Reported. Periodical Picnics May Be Held. Routine Work.

Weekly or semimonthly picnics of the Chamber of Commerce in the canons or other suitable place in the hills were suggested at the regular monthly meeting of that body in the city hall last night. The suggestion apparently met with some favor, but no action was taken. A special committee to consider the proposition may be appointed. It is almost impossible for the hotels to take care of the large membership at luncheons such as have been held during the last few months.

Routine business and several suggestions which were referred to committes, together with reports of various committees, formed the principal business at the meeting.

Charles T. Wilder, chairman of the committee on advertising, explained the postcard and “Daily Doings” activities of his committee, saying that in his opinion both are of great value in pushing the advantages of the region.

Asks Mention of School.

W. C. Sturgis, formerly dean of the forestry school of Colorado College, explained something of the idea of the founding of St. Stephen's school, northeast of the city and said that few realize the value or importance of the school to the community. He asked that it be given mention in the various advertising propositions of the Chamber of Commerce. It is probable that that body will take up the matter at once in some definite form.

Secretary John T. Burns of the Dry Farming congress spoke regarding the use of stamps advertising the congress on all letters mailed from this city. He urged the business men to get rubber stamps which will be furnished by the congress with which to print on their letters sentiments such as the following:

“Attend the Sixth International Dry Farming congress and exposition and First International Congress of Farm Women, Colorado Springs, Colo., October 16-21. Low rates on all railroads.”

Mr. Burns also urged the use of dry farming folders in business letters.

J. K. Vanatta urged the attention of the organization to the recent ore discoveries near Woodland park and also to the new reducing process fathered by Franklin Beattie of that town. A resolution asking for the appointment of an investigating committee was referred to the directors.

E. W. Giddings presided at last night's meeting, which adjourned to the regular July meeting.

COLORADO MAN NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, June 29.—President Taft sent to the senate today the following nominations:

Envoys extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary: William R. Russell of District of Columbia to the Dominican republic; Evan E. Young, S. D., to [illegible]; [illegible] to Paraguay and Uruguay; Charles Dunning White, New Jersey, to Honduras; H. Percival Dodge, Massachusetts, to Panama; Lewis Einstein, New York, to Costa Rica; second secretary of the United States legation at Havana, William K. Wallace of Colorado.

DECISION SET ASIDE; REHEARING ALLOWED

Robinson Drug Co. Regains Liquor License Pending New Trial Tomorrow.

Police Magistrate Starrett yesterday afternoon set aside his decision of last Tuesday, finding the Robinson Drug company guilty of violating a provision of the liquor ordinance, and set the rehearing for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. In the meantime the drug company, whose liquor license was revoked automatically because of the conviction, thus has its license restored, and may sell liquor as before.

At a hearing in police court yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Attorney S. H. Kinsley, representing Manager Donaldson of the drug company, filed a motion that the decision be set aside and a rehearing allowed. He set forth that the complaint served on Mr. Donaldson merely notified him that he was indebted to the city for violating a provision of the liquor ordinance, and that the defendant was not aware of the serious consequences in case of conviction. Mr. Donaldson, therefore, did not secure all the testimony necessary for his defense. Under these circumstances, City Attorney McKesson, who was present, did not object to the motion, and the court set aside its decision and fixed the rehearing as stated.

Many Officials Present.

Much interest was shown in the proceedings, which occupied only a few minutes. Mayor Avery, Police Commissioner Himebaugh, Chief of Police Armstrong, Captain Stark and other city officials were present.

The Robinson Drug company was convicted of violating a clause of the liquor ordinance, in that it kept its stock of liquor in three bodies, instead of two compact bodies, as provided in the ordinance. One stock is kept upstairs for immediate sale, and the second body of liquor, in the basement, was recently divided to make way for an aisle, on the request of Fire Chief McCartin, who deemed it advisable in case of fire. It was on this that the drug company was convicted and fined $100. The new liquor ordinance provides for the revocation of any liquor license and the forfeiture of all license fees as soon as the licensee is convicted of violating any provision of the ordinance. The Robinson company would thus lose its license and about $1,400 in fine and forfeited license fees, if Tuesday's conviction were allowed to stand.

NOTED PAINTER DIES

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Paul De Longpre, the famous painter of flowers, died at his home in Hollywood tonight from a complication of diseases from which he had suffered for the last two years. De Longpre was born in Lyons, France, in 1855. Until De Longpre was 12 years old he attended the public schools at Paris. At that age he began to paint flowers on fans and from this beginning he came to be one of the most noted of floral paintings.

HENWOOD FOUND GUILTY SECOND DEGREE MURDER

DENVER, June 29.—Harold Frank Henwood, slayer of George E. Copeland of Victor, a well-known mining man, who was shot fatally by Henwood when the latter fired upon S. L. Von Phul, the amateur balloonist of St. Louis, who also received mortal wounds, was today found guilty of murder in the second degree. The penalty is from 10 years to life in the penitentiary.

District Judge Greeley W. Whitford, however, granted a 10 days' stay of execution to permit the defendant's counsel, John T. Bottom, opportunity to file a motion for a new trial.

WOULD ENTER CHARGES OF PERJURY

Lorimer Investigators Aroused by Conflicting Stories of Witnesses.

[illegible]

Persists in Claim That Taft, Penrose and Aldrich Were for Illinoisan.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Intimation that prosecution of certain witnesses for perjury would grow out of the Senate investigation of the election of Senator Lorimer was forthcoming today during the examination of Edward W. Hines, the Chicago millionaire lumberman whose name is connected with the alleged $100,000 fund collected to elect Mr. Lorimer. Mr. Hines contradicted many statements of previous witnesses and the situation aroused Senator Kenyon of Iowa.

“Now there ought to be some prosecutions for perjury right here,” he exclaimed.

He did not indicate whom he would have indicted, but his remark created a profound impression. All day Mr. Hines was on the stand and his examination was not concluded when the committee adjourned until tomorrow. His first testimony that attracted deep interest was his detailed account of how he said President Taft, former Senator Aldrich and Senator Penrose had him exert his influence to have Mr. Lorimer elected.

At the afternoon session Senators Gamble, Kenyon and Jones plied the witness with questions, designed to show that he knew nothing directly of President Taft's attitude on the matter.

Taft Won't Discuss Matter.

It was announced at the White House tonight that the President would not discuss Mr. Hines' reiterated statement that the chief executive expressed any preference for Mr. Lorimer for senator. At the time Mr. Hines made his declaration to the investigating committee of the Illinois senate that Mr. Taft, Senator Aldrich and Senator Penrose had expressed a desire for Mr. Lorimer's election, friends of the President were prompt in their denial that Mr. Taft was in any way interested. It was said then that the President had merely expressed the hope that the deadlock in Illinois would be broken.

Mr. Hines then denied in its entirety the testimony of Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company regarding the conversation the two men had in Chicago shortly after Mr. Lorimer's election. Mr. Funk had testified that Mr. Hines asked him on that occasion for a $10,000 contribution to a $100,000 Lorimer campaign fund. Mr. Hines testified that Mr. Funk asked for an introduction to the new Senator and for the privilege of contributing to his election expenses.

Mr. Hines denied he ever went to Mr. Funk's office to refresh the latter's memory as to the Chicago convention. Mr. Funk testified that there was such a visit.

Contradicts Cook, Also.

Mr. Hines contradicted testimony given by Wirt Cook of Duluth, Minn. He denied having telephoned from Mr. Cook's room in a Chicago hotel on May 26, 1909, that he would be down to Springfield on the “next train with all the money needed in the Lorimer election.” He denied also, that he said

M. W. A. 1914 Meeting Here if Springs Can Care for 20,000

If Colorado Springs can show the directors of the Modern Woodmen of America that 20,000 people can be accommodated here at the time of the annual head camp session of that order in 1914, the big gathering is certain to come to this city according to J. F. Sanford, delegate from this county to the recent head camp session in Buffalo.

On account of a change in the representation to the head camp session from one for every 1,500 members to one for every 2,000 this city would probably be called upon in 1914 to care for but 20,000 visitors, although there were about [illegible] at Buffalo. That this city can take care of 20,000 visitors [illegible]. That being [illegible] the directors who are already favorably disposed toward this city will undoubtedly [illegible] Colorado Springs [illegible] matter. They will not decide definitely, however, until the special head camp session in Chicago [illegible] and probably not for some months afterward.

The general sentiment on the floor of the convention at Buffalo was overwhelmingly in favor of Colorado Springs for the 1914 meeting.

$850,000 for Sanatorium.

At least $850,000 will be spent in the development of the sanatorium in this city during the next three years according to Mr. Sanford. Nearly one-third of that amount, $250,000, will be spent within the next 12 months, as a result of the power given the directors at the Buffalo meeting. The board may spend as much as $150,000 annually in the improvement and maintenance of the sanatorium, which is one of the great drawing cards of the organization. The per capita maintenance fund, aggregating $1,300,000 annually, is the source of the money. Plans for the improvement of the sanatorium have been drawn by MacLaren and Thomas of this city so that the work can begin as soon as the new superintendent, Dr. [illegible] Rutledge, takes charge, which will be about August [illegible]. Dr. J. E. White, the present superintendent, will probably not remain with the institution.

The directors and several head officers will be in this city immediately after their regular triennial organization meeting Tuesday, July 18.

The officers who are expected in this city in July are: Head Consul A. R. Talbot, Secretary C. W. Hawes and Directors F. F. [illegible], A. N. Bort, R. R. Smith, [illegible] J. Byrns and Dr. Rutledge.

The hall at Buffalo, according to Mr. Sanford, is but little larger than Temple [illegible] this city and [illegible] favorably situated. If the new [illegible] theater auditorium can be [illegible] for the meeting, a hall will be provided excelling any room ever used by the head camp session in its conventions. That matter, however, will not be taken up for [illegible].

MANITOU DEPARTMENT

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF EXPLOSIVES MADE

Charles E. Bruce, mayor pro tem., has issued a Fourth of July proclamation restricting the firing of all explosives and asking all citizens to co-operate with the police in making that day safe and enjoyable. Following is the proclamation in full:

"It is our fervent wish that everyone in Manitou will enjoy the glorious Fourth.

"Yet from the standpoint of public safety it has been deemed advisable to place a restriction upon the firing of guns, crackers, dynamite, etc.

"It must be distinctly understood that the Fourth of July does not extend from the latter part of the month of June until the fifth of July, and all persons are warned not to fire crackers, guns, dynamite, etc., in or upon the streets or parks of Manitou at any time except as hereinafter stated.

"Firecrackers, guns, rockets, dynamite, etc., may exploded on the Fourth of July in any part of the town, except in or upon Manitou avenue from Deerpath avenue to Waltham avenue, Ruxton avenue from Manitou avenue to Capitol Hill avenue and that portion of Cañon avenue extending from Manitou avenue to Grand avenue.

"Our police officers will have instructions to rigidly enforce this rule and we trust that all good citizens will co-operate with them to the end that the day may be fittingly observed and enjoyed. CHARLES E. BRUCE,
"Mayor Pro Tem."

[illegible] ENFORCE SOLICITING ORDINANCE [illegible]

"We are going to place the hackmen on their respective 'stands' tomorrow, and the first one to solicit business more than three feet from his position will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law," was the statement made yesterday by Marshal Goodman, in regard to the enforcement of the soliciting ordinance. He continued:

"All of the drivers know just what the ordinance is and they make no pretense of wanting it changed; they say nothing, but go on disregarding it. Both Detective Wolfe and myself have tried to settle the matter without any unpleasantness, but they refuse to come to an agreement. The only reason we have waited so long is because the street was torn up by the street railway company in putting in the loop, leaving very little room for so many carriages.

"When this matter first came up a number of the men showed a willingness to act under the ordinance, but when others commenced to drive past them, keeping the former from soliciting, they naturally got off their 'stand.'"

STREET CARS RUN OVER [illegible]

The first street cars ran over the loop here yesterday morning, and even those most bitterly opposed to the loop construction joined in saying that it is a decided improvement. Although the tracks are completed, all the work is not entirely finished. A switchback is being put in between the part of the track which is on the company grounds and the sidewalk on the south side of Manitou avenue.

A new schedule, on which the cars run every six minutes, will be put into effect Saturday, and then the trailers will be used for the first time. With these improvements the company expects to give much better service than formerly, notwithstanding the fact that the traffic this season is expected to be a record-breaker.

ORCHESTRA ENGAGED

The people of Manitou, not satisfied with the kind and amount of boosting already done, have thought of a new way to entertain the tourists and attract greater crowds. The latest feature in this line is the engagement of Fink's 15-piece orchestra to play two concerts every Sunday, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, throughout the summer, the concerts to be given in the Iron Spring pavilion. All the people of this region have heard this orchestra and know what it is, and it is the belief that this entertainment is the best thing done in the way of advertising thus far this season.

In a handsome little booklet, entitled "Manitou," and dedicated to his mother, Walter M. Ellis of Hastings, Neb., who has visited here for many seasons, tells a delightful Indian legend. The booklet contains many beautiful photographs of scenes in and around Manitou, fittingly descriptive of the verses of the legend.

ESTABLISH A BRANCH IN COLORADO SPRINGS

W. J. Puyser of San Francisco registered at the Navajo recently for a several weeks' stay. Mr. Puyser represents the Commercial Securities company in the territory west of the Mississippi river, and says that, owing to the condition of the agricultural prospects in this region, the company will probably establish a branch in Colorado Springs.

ATTORNEYS TO KEEP OUT

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—The attorneys for Mrs. Ortie E. McManigal and for the McNamara brothers announced today that they would make no effort to block the contempt proceedings which are set for Saturday before Judge Bordwell of the superior court, who will determine whether questions asked Mrs. McManigal before the grand jury were proper.

Mrs. McManigal's attorneys said that she was much improved today, but still was in bed as the result of her sudden interview with her husband in the grand jury anteroom Tuesday.

[illegible] AGAIN HEADS COLORED CLUB WOMEN

Eighth Annual Convention of State Federation Held in This City. Many Features on Program.

The eighth annual convention of the State Federation of Colored Women's clubs closed at Temple theater last night with a program, followed by a reception to the guests and 96 delegates from the 36 clubs in the Colorado jurisdiction by the Colorado Springs club of the federation.

At the session yesterday afternoon the officers for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. E. E. Butler of Denver was made president; Mrs. L. M. Froman, Cheyenne, honorary president; Mrs. C. G. Ashford, Cheyenne, first vice president; Mrs. Beulah Baker, Pueblo, second vice president; Mrs. Mattie Aldridge, Colorado Springs, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilhelmina Hall, Colorado Springs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. Cassells, Denver, treasurer; Mrs. Eva Gilmore, Cheyenne, auditor; Mrs. E. Goens, Denver, chairman of executive board; Miss Rosa Bowers, Pueblo, chairman of ways and means; Mrs. Isabelle Lenex, La Junta, chairman of program; Mrs. J. S. Young, Pueblo, state organizer; Mrs. George Ross, Denver, historian. All were re-elected except Mrs. Gilmore and Mrs. Ross.

At the opening session Wednesday morning at Payne chapel, the federation song, "Onward," was sung by the members. The remainder of the morning was occupied with the transaction of business, appointment of committees, etc. The reports of the various clubs show them to be in the most flourishing condition. Among the afternoon speakers were Dr. Stephenson, Dr. Boone, Mrs. Hawkins, a club woman of Indiana; Dr. T. E. McLain and O. Goens, both of Denver. An excellent dinner was served by the city federation to the delegates, alternates and visitors.

Mayor Avery Speaks.

The evening session was honored by the presence of Mayor Avery, who welcomed the delegates and alternates of the visiting clubs to Colorado Springs. Other speakers of the evening were Mrs. Butler, state president, and the Rev. Mr. Boone.

After the devotional exercises, which were conducted by Mr. Boone, words of welcome to the visitors were spoken by Mesdames Braxton and McIntyre. Mrs. Delvecse of Cheyenne responded to the address of welcome by the Mayor. The remainder of the program consisted of an excellent number by the Treble Clef club, a solo by Miss Lamb and remarks by Dr. Grant.

The most conspicuous feature of Wednesday's sessions was the beautiful display of needlework and hand painting.

The church was handsomely decorated with ferns and palms, with the motto, "To the Stars Through Difficulties," suspended across the large American flag just behind the president's chair.

The building was crowded to capacity by the many tourists and other visitors.

CEMENT [illegible]

The cement girder bridge over Kettle creek, eight miles north of this city, on the Denver-Colorado Springs road, has just been completed under the supervision of the county commissioners. It is 30 feet long, with four wing walls, each 12 feet in length, and cost $2,100. County Commissioner Hutchinson said last night that a contractor would not have built the bridge for less than $4,000. Piles for the foundations were driven 14 feet.

The bridge is one of several improvements on the Denver-Colorado Springs road made or contemplated. Near the Kettle Creek bridge the road has been straightened and improved, so it is now one of the best pieces of road in the county.

"I cast my first vote for Andrew Jackson," Paine said today. "I have a son 75 years old. He lives in Odessa, N. Y. My father was a large land owner near Elmira. He was a friend of Governor Clinton, who bequeathed to him 480 acres of land because he bestowed the name of the governor on me."

in a conversation with Mr. Cook and a Mr. Turrish about May 1, 1909, that he had elected "Old Stephenson" or that the southern Democrats in Congress "would not stay put" on the lumber question or that he had it all "fixed" to elect Lorimer to the Senate.

It was after he had said that he believed he had not read Mr. Cook's testimony about the conversation before the Helm investigating committee, at Springfield, that Senator Kenyon uttered his exclamation about prosecutions for perjury.

During the day Mr. Hines put into the record copies of the telegrams which had been sent to him by Senator Lorimer since the latter's election, with the exception of one which he never received; with these he had inserted a copy of a magazine article in which Mr. Hines said, it was claimed, the telegrams would throw light on the election. The telegrams referred to tariff and river and harbor legislation and contained no reference to the election.

He told the committee that all his personal checks and those of the companies with which he was connected were open to inspection.

DENVER, June 29.—Grand lodge district No. 2, B'nai B'rith, at its concluding session here today adopted unanimously a resolution protesting against the action of the Russian government in refusing to honor passports of American citizens of Jewish faith. The resolution recites that "the treaty between the United States and Russia should either operate equally upon all Americans or be abrogated," and requested government officials to take immediate steps to protect the rights of "American citizens irrespective of creed."

After deciding to meet next year in Indianapolis the organization chose the following officers for next year:

[illegible] FIREWORKS DISPLAY AT [illegible]

Zoo park, on the evening of the Fourth of July, will be the scene of what has come to be called "an old-fashioned" Fourth, when a pyrotechnic display will be presented which will excel any of those which in past years have made the park the mecca of all lovers of brilliant fireworks on Independence day.

The big attraction is the spectacular pyrotechnic exhibition, "The Battle of Manila," which is a wonderfully realistic reproduction of the original conflict which established the Stars and Stripes in the Philippines. In addition to this striking feature, there will be a display of fireworks of every description, sufficient to satisfy the craving of all for the boom and the brilliancy of a typical Fourth.

The next quarterly meeting of the Colorado Association of Commercial Executives will be held at Fowler, July 13. The committee of arrangements is working on the program, which will be ready in a few days. One of the matters to be considered at the meeting will be the change in date of the annual meeting from September to October.

Secretary Henderson of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce is secretary of the association. Mr. Henderson is sending out in the notices of the coming meeting the statement that the Platteville Commercial club was awarded the first prize given by the Denver chamber of commerce in the recent statewide membership campaign. The Platteville organization gained 54 members, its original membership being six.

[illegible]NS TO "SHOW 'EM ALL" AT [illegible] FARM

E. R. Parsons of Parker, Colo., has written to those in charge of arrangements for the special train over the Colorado and Southern to his farm, July 11, saying that he will "show 'em all" what can be done by dry-farming methods properly applied.

The train is to leave the Santa Fe station at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, and will make 30-minute stops at Eastonville, Elizabeth and Elbert, where speeches on dry-farming methods will be made.

Mr. Parsons' letter mentions acres of cherry trees, currant bushes (loaded with currants), and all kinds of corn. He also has several mountain trees which he has transplanted and grown successfully on his farm.

The trip will be made under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, and the train is furnished through the courtesy of the Colorado and Southern.

"A GLIMPSE OF UTAH"

"A Glimpse of Utah," a booklet issued by the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, tells of the progress of Utah from the early days of the Mormon immigration to the present. It is beautifully illustrated, and the story is told by Judge E. F. Colburn, the well-known authority on Utah's earlier history.

"GETS-IT," the new preparation, is as harmless to the skin as water, but, blazes, how it works! Nothing to stick or hurt. Lo and behold your corn comes out. You don't have to drag it out. C. A. Lory, President of Agricultural College, Indorses Farm Congress

President Charles A. Lory of the Colorado State Agricultural college, fully appreciates the importance of having a session of the International Dry Farming congress held in this state. Also he is familiar with the educational propaganda for better farming that the congress stands for. A letter written by Dr. Lory has been received by Secretary John T. Burns of the congress that contains the following hearty indorsement:

"I am glad to learn that the official invitation for the sixth annual session of the International Dry Farming congress is soon to be issued. I hope the work of preparation has gone along to your satisfaction, and I trust we may have a very large attendance at this session in October.

"We appreciate the opportunity of working with you to make this session as great a success as possible. Colorado, with its great areas of land that must always depend upon dry farming methods, must make every effort to improve these methods by bringing to bear the knowledge gained in all parts of the world on her own problems. In no way can this be more effectively done than through the work of the International Dry Farming congress, especially when it meets in one of our own cities, so that our people have the opportunity of attending the sessions, hearing the speakers and meeting many of the leaders in this great movement personally.

"I am sure the state board of agriculture and the workers of the Agricultural college and experiment station will gladly co-operate with you in any way possible to further this movement."

EMINENT MEMBERS A[illegible] GUESTS [illegible] MASONS

Guests of honor at special meetings of El Paso lodge No. 13, A. F. and A. M., Wednesday afternoon and night, were Most Worshipful Master A. B. McGaffey of Denver, and Judge J. R. At the night meeting five candidates were raised to the degree of Master Masons. This meeting was the one hundred and twenty-third attended in this state by Judge Thomas since January 1. Representatives from 12 states and one from England attended the meetings.

Judge Thomas held the highest office in the gift of the Masons of Illinois in 1886, and spent 10 years in Congress, where he became known as "the father of the navy" on account of his championship of the growth of a navy while chairman of the committee on naval affairs.

He also spent four years on special diplomatic missions for his country and was appointed a federal judge in Oklahoma by President McKinley in 1897. He is a life-long friends of George S. and Robert Elstun of the Alamo hotel, whose guest he was while here. Last night he spent in Denver as the guest of Grand Master McGaffey, at a meeting of all the lodges in that city.

HUNGRY MAN IN JAIL

William Sheddy of Coffeyville, Kan., was hungry yesterday morning, so he asked Aaron Patrick, cook at the Scofield restaurant, to let him work at peeling potatoes until he had earned his breakfast. While at his job, there arose a difference as to what amount of work should warrant the meal. The difference was not settled, and a fight ensued.

Sheddy is wanted by Justice Gowdy Saturday morning to testify against Patrick, who was arrested, charged with assault, so in default of a $200 bond, he was placed in jail, after having been arrested for disturbing the peace on complaint of Scofield. Patrick gave bond of $200.

He will be particularly in charge of the sales of the "Big Ben" alarm clock, 2,000 of which are shipped from the factory at La Salle daily. He will work in conjunction with the regular advertising department of the concern, which ships about 10,000 clocks a day to all parts of the world.

July 10 he will go to La Salle to attend and address the annual convention of the salesmen of the company, and the next few days he will spend in familiarizing himself with the details of the work. RAIN AIDS TRAIN ROBBERS

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 29.—A heavy rain today obliterated all trails of the robbers who held up the northbound Southern Pacific Oregon express train, in Cow Creek canon, last night.

The rain also dampened the ardor of about 50 residents of Douglas county, interested in securing rewards estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000 for the capture of the bandits. Bloodhounds brought from the penitentiary at Eugene were unable to pick up any trail.

One of the bandits is believed to be one of the two men who held up the Shasta Limited Southern Pacific train at Yoncalla, June 16.

HOLD MAYOR ACCUSED OF DYNAMITING FOR JURY

BEMIJA, Minn. June 29—After listening to the testimony of Martin Behan, the captured Puposky bandit who implicated Dr. D. F. Dumas, mayor of Cass Lake, Minn., in the Puposky crime, Court Commissioner Simons in the preliminary hearing today declared that the evidence was sufficient to hold Dumas to the next grand jury.

Notice to Consumers of Gas and Electricity

In order to facilitate the handling of accounts and to save customers delay in paying their bills on account of the crowded conditions of the office during the discount days at the first of each month, the city will be divided into two discount districts beginning with July readings, as follows:

Customers residing in the territory bounded on the east by the center line of Weber street, and on the south by the center line of Cache la Poudre street, and those residing west and south of the tracks of the Denver and Rio Grande railway, including Ivywild and Colorado City, will be allowed the usual discount upon payment of their monthly bills in full between the 15th and 25th of the month in which the same are rendered.

For the balance of the city the discount period will remain the same as at the present, namely, from the 1st to the 10th inclusive of each month.

Agreeable to the above division of the city into discount districts, each customer's bill will show the discount days applicable. Customers will therefore read their bill so as not to lose the discount, as the same will not be allowed after the period stipulated thereon.

NOTED TURFMAN DIES

NEW YORK, June 29.—David R. Johnson, the turfman, died here today, following an operation for cancer. He achieved widest note, perhaps, as the owner of Roseben, the famous racer, which cost him $5,000 and won more than $100,000 in stakes and purses.

Charles Trout was arrested Wednesday upon the charge of "bootlegging." He is the fourth to be arrested upon this charge. It is said that Frank Green, a porter, obtained the liquor from his employers, and sold it to Trout, whereupon Trout sold a pint of it to John Sullivan, last Sunday. The case was set for 9 o'clock yesterday morning but upon the nonappearance of one of the witnesses it was postponed to 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Chief of Police Taws said yesterday, "We must put a stop to this "bootlegging" and we are going to do it. It is going to be a hard job but nevertheless we are going to work on it until we make it impossible."

SMITH GRAHAM APPARENTLY LIKES TO WORK OUT FINES

It appears that Smith Graham does not object to work. As soon as he finished working out a fine in Colorado Springs he came to this city and got drunk. Police Magistrate Bryan allowed him to go free and within a few hours he was again arrested upon the same charge. This time he was fined $10 by Magistrate McCoach and it is probable that he will have to work it out.

POLICE GETTING RESULTS

A short time ago the police started to clear the city of all drunks and vagrants. Lately the effects of the work have been seen.

Yesterday Ed O'Brien of Roswell was arrested upon a charge of being intoxicated. The records show that he is an old offender.

INVESTIGATE FURTHER

A more thorough investigation of the cases of John Howard and Herschel Jarvison, charged with stealing bicycles, will be made by Assistant District Attorney M. W. Purcell. The juvenile court was to have heard the cases yesterday morning, but they were postponed to await the investigation.

The assertion that Harold Berry, one of the boys charged with helping to steal the bicycles, had forced his aged mother to get his supper after midnight at different times, was denied by Mrs. Berry. She says it was another son who caused her the trouble.

George Taylor, another of the gang, will have a hearing in Justice Gowdy's court July 6. He is charged with larceny and is out on $300 bond.

If you always use Calumet Baking Powder, because it always gives best results, with any kind of flour.

The baking can be made with more certainty of good results; it will be more uniformly raised—it will be lighter—it will be tastier—it will be more wholesome, because the materials in Calumet are so perfectly adapted to all baking requirements and then so carefully proportioned that failures are almost impossible.

Besides it is more economical than the trust brands—and so far superior to the cheap and big-can kinds that a comparison cannot be made. You can bake better with

[illegible] FOR WESTERN GOLF ASSN. CHAMPIONSHIP

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 29.—Thomas McNamara, the veteran from Boston, and Robert Simpson, Kenosha's crack professional, will compete on the Kent Country club course tomorrow for the Western Golf association title.

In the semifinals today, McNamara defeated Wilbur Oakes of Detroit, 1 up, and Simpson beat Jack Croke of Westward Ho, Chicago, 4 up and 3.

McNamara's uphill fight and victory over Oakes on the thirty-sixth hole this afternoon brought the day's matches to a thrilling close. When the afternoon 18-hole play was started, McNamara was 3 down. On the thirty-fourth he was even. Oakes, on the thirty-sixth, forced to make a 15-foot putt to halve the hole in 4, fell short by a couple of inches, and the gallery promptly gave the easterner an ovation.

Late this afternoon it was discovered that by an error of the officials, George McLean of Saginaw, winner of third place in the consolation division, was unintentionally denied a chance to compete for the title. McLean made the 18 holes in Wednesday's consolation round in 81 instead of 82, as officially totaled, which made his total 162 instead of 163, and thereby entitled him to compete with the three golfers who played off for the fifteenth and sixteenth places in the championship division. The error will now, of course, have to go unrectified.

ATHLETES IN PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, June 29.—A stream of athletes from all parts of the United States poured into this city today and tonight. Before noon tomorrow 500 men, the cream of America's athletic talent, will have assembled at Forbes field to participate during the afternoon and Saturday in the National Amateur Athletic union senior and junior championship games.

Of the 500 entrants, 300 are title holders. From the winners will be selected the American representatives to the Olympic games to be held next year at Stockholm, Sweden.

Thirty-two cities, extending from Maine to California, and embracing 87 well-known athletic clubs, have entered their best talent.

It is expected that upwards of 50,000 spectators will witness the games during the two days.

S[illegible] TAKE HEART FROM MARKED DEVELOPMENT IN WORK OF [illegible] CREWS

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 29.—The curtain in American intercollegiate sports for 1910-11, falls tomorrow with the annual three-race regatta between Yale and Harvard, on the Thames. In the morning will come the races between the freshmen eight and varsity fours, while the forty-fifth varsity race for eight-oared crews will start late in the afternoon.

Old oarsmen, followers of rowing and thousands of enthusiasts made this old port a rowing mecca today. In the hotels and restaurants and along the river, the speed, endurance and rowing knowledge of the crews monopolized discussion. Betting was somewhat livelier than for several years, with Harvard a 10-to-1 favorite for the varsity; Yale, a 5-to-3 shot for the freshmen, and about even money on the four-oared race.

It was asserted tonight that had the big race been rowed two weeks ago, Harvard probably would have won easily. Yale came to New London dispirited. A defeat several weeks ago by Pennsylvania was followed by a still more bitter pill at Princeton, where the Yale crew trailed both Cornell and Princeton, and the Blue supporters had little hope of victory when the crew reached Gales Ferry quarters three weeks ago. But the improvement of the crew has been rapid, and some of the experts said tonight that Yale had the fastest crew since one of its predecessors, 23 years ago, established the course record of 20 minutes and 10 seconds for the four miles.

Crimson Supporters Fast.

But in the Red Top quarters are a lot of heavy, powerful and veteran oarsmen who appeared to have hind them last year and have shown their ability to row four miles under 21 minutes, two miles in less than 10 minutes, and a mile in something under 5 minutes. Harvard, however, was defeated by Cornell five weeks ago, and the crew's practice here has not shown any marked development as has Yale's.

Tomorrow's race will be between a coming light crew and a shell full of oarsmen who have appeared to have reached their best development some days ago. The question, therefore, is whether Harvard has maintained her best, and if that best is superior to Yale's development. The scene for the regatta was partly set today.

The naval dispatch boat Dolphin, four revenue cutters and a squadron of steam yachts, sailing vessels and power boats arrived and took positions along the course. The Dolphin received Secretary of the Navy Meyer on board with 19 guns. Directly opposite Red Top, the old-timers gathered this afternoon to see the supplementary races between minor crews and the graduate eights.

During the afternoon, also, Captain Frost of Yale and Captain Cutler of Harvard tossed for positions for the races, and the Crimson won every time the coin was flipped.

KNOCKS OUT "WHITE HOPE"

NEW YORK, June 29.—Sam Langford, the Boston negro heavyweight, knocked out Jack Fitzgerald, a Philadelphia "white hope" in the fifth round of a 10-round bout here tonight.

After the first round it became a question of how long Fitzgerald would last. Langford merely toyed with his adversary until the fifth round when a right swing put Fitzgerald down for the count of nine and on arising a left hook to the jaw knocked him out.

U. S. TORPEDO DESTROYER DAMAGED IN COLLISION

NEW YORK, June 29.—With her forward smoke stack bent and her forward railing smashed as the result of a collision with an unknown schooner off the New Jersey coast last night, the torpedo boat destroyer Ammen reached the New York navy yard today. Officers of the Ammen said the schooner apparently was not damaged as she proceeded on her course.

PHYSICIAN'S WIDOW GETS BULK OF HIS PROPERTY

DENVER, June 29.—The will of the late Dr. J. Elvin Courtney, who was proprietor of Mt. Airy sanatorium at Montclair, was filed in the county court yesterday. Dr. Courtney died last Friday, having made his will as recently as March 15, 1911.

The will disposes of real estate and personal property, mostly in Denver, valued at $88,000. May F. B. Courtney, the widow and sole executrix, is the chief beneficiary, but bequests are made to the brother and sisters, nephews and nieces of the late physician, all of whom reside in Virginia.

Bequests of $1,000 each are left to Anna L. Thurston and Lizzie Garland, sisters, and to Wilfred S. Courtney, a brother. Seven nephews and nieces are remembered in the will, each with a gift of $500. J. Elvin Garland, a grand nephew and namesake, is bequeathed $2,500. The late physician left his gold watch to John W. Courtney, a nephew, and to another nephew, Llewellyn Garland, is given a gold headed cane.

The realty consists of Mt. Airy sanatorium, Twelfth avenue and Clermont street, in Montclair, and the personality is made up of stocks and bonds in various corporations.

STAND UP, PAY HALF FARE

BOSTON, June 29.—Standing room only signs on street cars will be greeted with pleasure rather than with grunts of dissatisfaction if the bill presented to the legislature by Representative C. R. O'Connell of Peabody is enacted. Mr O'Connell would have the laws of the state provide that passengers who are unable to get a seat need pay but half fare. He thinks this would relieve the constant complaint that street railway companies do not furnish enough cars during rush hours.

Before the legislature takes action the state railroad commissioners will investigate the advisability of such a law.

DAUGHTER FORMER SENATOR H. G. DAVIS WEDS ARMY MAN

ELKINS, W. Va., June 29.—Katherine Davis Brown, daughter of Commander R. M. G. Brown, U. S. A., and stationed at San Antonio, Texas.

The wedding ceremony was held in the hall of Graceland, the residence of former Senator Davis. The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Olliphant of New York, Miss Elsie Price of Baltimore and Miss Natalie Sutherland of Elkins.

THE OILED STREETS.

THE work of oiling Cascade Avenue from Uintah Street to Platte Avenue, where the paving will begin is now in progress and will be finished in a few days. It will be remembered that Commissioner Lawton tried last winter to get an appropriation large enough to admit of the oiling of Tejon Street also, but the fund available for the current year was not large enough. However, it is gratifying that Cascade Avenue is being thus improved, and when the work is finished it will be in every respect a modern thoroughfare.

The success of the oil treatment for streets on which the traffic is light is fully established. A thorough dressing of road oil, containing a large percentage of asphalt, renders the surface both dustless and waterproof. An oiled road sheds water like a duck's back, but what is vastly more important here, it is the most effective means of abating the dust nuisance. When freshly applied the oil has an odor which is not altogether agreeable, but this disadvantage is more than compensated for by its action in binding together the particles of sand and gravel and making a smooth, firm surface which, under ordinary traffic is not easily ground into dust. For these reasons it is apparent that sprinkling with oil is the real solution of the problem of good streets in Colorado Springs. Of course we refer only to the residence streets, for no amount of sprinkling with oil will make a gravel street capable of withstanding the steady grind of heavily-laden iron tires. This is a condition that can be provided for only by paving the business streets, as is soon to be done.

ONE REMEDY FOR DUST NUISANCE. But the time is not far distant when Colorado Springs can boast with absolute truth of having streets which in every essential particular are beyond criticism. The entire business district, comprising the twenty-five blocks in which the traffic is heaviest, will be paved with some material of proven worth. This will be finished by the end of the present summer. A year ago several blocks on North Cascade Avenue were oiled as an experiment, and the results have been so satisfactory that the work is now being continued. There is no doubt that other streets will be oiled as speedily as available means will permit, until all of the more important thoroughfares are thus improved.

It is reasonable to suppose that when this is done the dust nuisance in Colorado Springs will no longer be a source of serious annoyance. Of course we shall always have a certain amount of dust; every city has, no matter how well paved and carefully swept its streets may be. But at any rate we can get rid of the disagreeable clouds of sand and dust which accompany the heavy winds in March and April.

Doubters and pessimists would do well to take notice that Colorado Springs is "up and coming." There is an end to the lethargy of other days which had its origin in the feeling that we already had the best and most beautiful city in the country and therefore did not need to exert ourselves to make it still better. There is more enterprise and public spirit to the square inch in Colorado Springs today than ever before, and it is the spirit that does things.

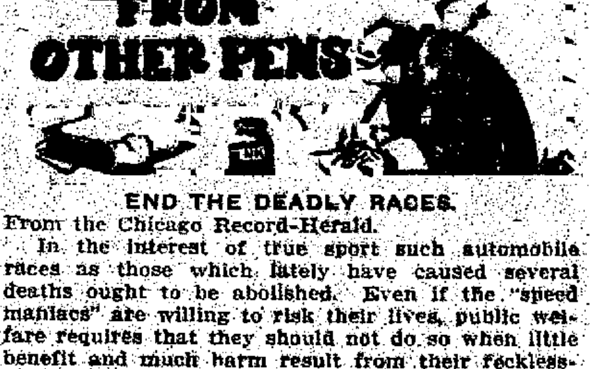
MURDER MADE EASY.

CHICAGO, which brags lustily of its bigness and the bigness of everything it does and has, can point to a record of 224 murders in the last twenty months. In this case, however, Chicago is properly ashamed of the fact. For once its papers are unable to "point with pride" to figures which outdistance those of any other city in the world which indeed make the homicide records of many populous nations look small in comparison. Statistics are often unreliable, but there is no going behind the returns in this case. The disagreeable fact that Chicago has established itself as the seat and center of the homicide industry of the world. It has about two and a quarter million people, but more murders are committed there every year than in England with its fifty millions.

There are many reasons for this condition, but not the least important of them is the ease with which anybody can get hold of the implements of destruction. Commenting on this fact, the Chicago Chief of Police declares that he "sees no way in which human life can be rendered safe as long as anybody is free to buy deadly weapons." There is nothing to prevent a mere child buying an automatic pistol which fires ten shots in half as many seconds, and two shots before he can release his finger from the trigger. Any tough imbued with the desire to pose as a "bad man" can be a gun-toter, and of course when he gets the weapon in his pocket he is subjected to constant temptation to use it. It is perfectly safe to say that hundreds of murders are committed in this country every year as the result of altercations which would be mere wordy quarrels but for the temptation which the possession of a pistol presents to the participant.

There ought to be stringent laws in every state and city regulating the sale and possession of deadly weapons. Beyond doubt their rigid enforcement would do much to reduce the appalling evil of homicide, which has attained more serious proportions in the United States than in any other civilized country.

FROM OTHER PENS



END THE DEADLY RACES.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

In the interest of true sport such automobile races as those which lately have caused several deaths ought to be abolished. Even if the "speed maniacs" are willing to risk their lives, public welfare requires that they should not do so when little benefit and much harm result from their fecklessness. The demoralizing effect of such a contest as that at Hawthorne last Sunday was shown by the loud demand of the spectators for a continuance of the races after announcement of the death of one driver at "dead man's turn" had been made.

Why some human beings crave the sight of sports that imperil life is not hard to understand. They have been left behind in the evolution of the race, and the spirit of the jungle survives in them as much as in the Romans who found recreation in gladiatorial contests and in the sight of men and women devoured by wild beasts. But that such a spirit should be manifested by many in an age that has done and is doing so much for the spiritual and the intellectual is saddening.

Public welfare demands that displays of this spirit be suppressed. Trials of skill at the risk of life are commendable when they lead to knowledge of a useful kind or to a result distinctly beneficial to humanity. They are deplorable and indefensible when their chief effect is the gratification of the speed mania.

CORONATION NEWS.

From the New York Globe.

The question of where John Hays Hammond is to walk, ride, sit, and be during the various ceremonies soon to occur in London is not yet answered. The earl marshal's office ruminating darkly, has thus far sidestepped the ticklish issue. At the funeral of King Edward Colonel Roosevelt, although an ex-president as well as the representative of the United States, did not get out of the ruck of the "also present."

Mr. Hammond has been a cheerful contributor to political funds, and has been so willing—oh, so willing!—to accept public honors. Up to the present the only distinction he has drawn is that of special representative of the President at the coronation, an office whose incumbent gets nothing and pays his own expenses. Is this self-sacrificing person to be rewarded by being put behind all the kings and kinglets and princes and princelings? Is he to take the dust of the agents of the Balkan states and see the back of the ambassador from Pumpernickel? To say nothing of his standing as the representative of the great republic, is not the earl marshal aware of his personal claims—of how he got into jail in South Africa and under sentence of death because of his devotion ot English interests? It will be an unspeakable outrage if John Hays is not given a seat well to the front at the great flummery. If such an atrocity shall occur it will come close to being one of those affronts to national honor that Colonel Roosevelt says cannot be arbitrated.

PARCELS POST TO BRAZIL.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Announcement has been made that the United States postoffice is prepared to accept parcels addressed to Rio Janeiro and elsewhere in Brazil. They may weigh as much as 11 pounds and they will be carried to and delivered at their destination for the charge of 12 cents a pound. The Inquirer is glad to give a gratuitous publicity to this interesting piece of news and in doing so it is constrained once more to comment regretfully on the fact that the foreign parcels post service is so superior to the domestic. There is hardly a place in the civilized or semicivilized world to which the rates now extended to Brazil do not apply. Parcels up to the weight of 11 pounds can be sent by mail practically everywhere at the rate of 12 cents a pound provided they bear a foreign address, but this facility is reserved for the foreign business.

It costs 48 cents to send a four-pound parcel from Philadelphia to Rio Janeiro, but it would cost 64 cents to send the same parcel across the river to Camden. The postoffice in Philadelphia or San Francisco or any other old place will agree to deliver an 11-pound package in Pekin for $1.32, but if this package was addressed to Manayunk or Los Angeles it would refuse to receive it because the maximum weight in the domestic parcels service is four pounds. Ordinary language fails adequately to characterize the absurd incongruity of this situation and yet Congress thus far has obstinately refused to enact the legislation which its remedy requires. The bursting-with-wealth express companies with their 300 per cent distribution of profits have effectually barred the way. It has been impossible to get a real parcels post bill through either branch of Congress.

NOT ILL-ASSORTED.

From the New York Times.

Social tranquillity has been somewhat disturbed by the clandestine marriage of the daughter of proud parents with a floor-walker. There seems to be no excuse for the disturbance. Floorwalking is a pursuit far from dishonorable. To be sure, the young gentleman in this case was, previously a football player, and it might be fancied that with his athletic training he could have qualified himself for walking of a less commonplace kind, on ceilings and walls, for instance. But it is best to avoid fanciful arguments in discussing a case which suggests so much practical thought.

Floorwalking is a branch of industry which, apart from any other distinction it may lend to its exponent, represents the great modern advance in retail trade. Of old the small merchant was his own floor-walker, salesman and cashier. Now he relies on a competent floorwalker for a large measure of pecuniary profit. The position demands a certain degree of personal force, urbanity, alertness of intellect, and self-control. It is not one that every young man could fill. The statesman's daughter who has taken a floorwalker to husband has not, for that reason, become a party to an ill-assorted marriage. She might have married an anthologist, an antiquarian, or some other person wedded to a pursuit devoid of financial profit and offering little or no opportunity for advancement. On the contrary, she has chosen a husband who is conspicuous in the onward march of trade. His daily walk is directly toward a state of solvency.

SOME PROBLEMS OF SCHOOL INSPECTION.

From the Journal of the American Medical Association.

While school inspection has been the subject of much commendatory mention in the public press, some objections have been raised to proposed legislation making it compulsory. The question has been raised as to the propriety of complete examinations requiring exposures of the chest, etc., especially in the older girls, it being urged that parents should be allowed to select the physician to make the examination. As perhaps might have been expected, the sectarian schools of medicine have been more or less to the fore in the objections. This trouble has been encountered in Newark, N. J., where, for instance, examination of the heart and lungs has been insisted on as a feature of school inspection.

It is natural that the inspecting authorities should want to forestall criticisms as to the thoroughness of their work, which would be very liable to be made by those not in full sympathy with the movement. It would seem, however, that since the school has no interest in heart disease further than as it affects the functional capacity of the heart, such tests as are necessary might be made without requiring any exposure which would be offensive to the pupils and resented by their parents.

It would doubtless be well for those engaged in the work to remember that medical school inspection is at present on trial so far as the general public is concerned, and that lack of tact may prejudice the cause as much as lack of skill, if not more. It is not desirable that medical school inspectors shall be time-servers; but for a school physician to strain his brief authority by too arbitrary insistence on methods as a matter of course in private practice, would seem to be premature, to say the least.

Doubtless, with greater experience, by the exercise of tact, by educating the public and winning its confidence, inspectors will be able in most instances to secure all needed information and at the same time to avoid any occasion for conflict between the authority of the home and that of the school. This is always disastrous, and would be especially regrettable just now in the case of medical school inspection.

Sunshine and Philosophy

By Walt Mason

There are divers times and seasons when for sundry human reasons man would rather nurse his sorrow than to listen to a jest; when emotions sentimental and reflections incidental claim possession of his headpiece and his broad and manly breast.

MISFIT HUMOR. There are moments when he's weary of this world that's passing dreary, and he wants to sit in silence thinking thoughts that smell of smoke; and at such a bitter season someone fit for spoils and treason nearly always comes to jar him with a punk and pallid joke. I have sat, too sad to frolic, with my stomach full of colic, drinking yarb tea from a dipper, while I sweated blood and swore; and a joker came and found me, told a string of yarns around me, till I smote him with the fig tree that was growing by my door. I have sat, of hope denuded, sat alone and mourned and brooded, for the scads I staked on Jeffries just a little year ago, and an aleck then narrated witticisms antiquated, heedless of my tears of anguish, blind to all my carking woe! Fellow beings, young or hoary! Ye who deal in joke and story, deal in tales with snowy whiskers, look before ye spring your gags. If ye find your victims nursing bitter grief and sadly cursing, it were well to can your legends, or you'll tear their souls to rags!

THE DAILY CHAT

-BY-

RUTH CAMERON

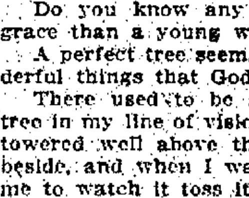
Do you ever see trees?

Really "see," I mean, not merely "look at."

It seems to me that trees are one of the wonderfully lovely things in nature, whose beauty few of us appreciate.

So many people confine their admiration and enjoyments to the conventional. They rave about sunsets and sunrises if they ever get up early enough to see them and flowers and vast woodland vistas, because everyone admires such things. But equally wonderful, though less obvious and conventional beauties, such as an individual tree, for instance, or a wonderful cloud effect, they never notice at all.

How many men and women there are who couldn't tell you what kind of trees they pass on their way down town or to work, or even what kind of trees grow in front of their homes. They just haven't thought them worth looking at.



And yet, can you think of anything more lovely than a white birch tree standing slim and tall and straight, like a beautiful young girl, with every leaf a quivering in the wind like the shimmering and fluttering of her garments?

Can you think of anything more gratifying to the eye than the symmetry of a perfectly symmetrical maple?

Can you think of any more inspiring symbol of majesty and stateliness and dignity than a towering pine or fir or a giant redwood tree?

Do you know any better example of exquisite grace than a young willow?

A perfect tree seems to me one of the most wonderful things that God ever made.

There used to be a marvelously perfect maple tree in my line of vision from my study window. It towered well above the three-story house it stood beside, and when I was tired it was a real rest to me to watch it toss its green branches against the pale blue of the sky. I think almost everyone in the neighborhood loved that tree.

Eight months ago a new owner of the property chopped that maple down because "it littered up the yard too much."

I almost turned socialist the day that tree was slain, in my rebellion against a system that makes it possible for a man who could not appreciate that beauty to own and destroy it.

Trees seem to me more individual and human than anything else in nature. No wonder the old Saxons endowed them with souls and worshiped them. Isn't it almost impossible to think that that tall elm tree that has grown up with your family and now stands on stately guard over your house, or that gnarled apple tree that has welcomed two generations of clambering youngsters into its rheumatic old arms, have no individuality?

It seems so to me.

Teach your children to know the different kinds of trees, teach them to realize that trees are quite as lovely as flowers, get them interested in these beautiful mute servants of man's comfort and pleasure, and you will have given them a lifelong heritage of interest and enjoyment.

THE POINTS

Hear the lawyers with their points,
Doubtful points;
What a world of litigants their wrangling disappoints!
In the changing day and night,
Through whiles of grim delight,
And more in sorry plight,
While the scales of justice tip, up or down,
Without heed!
In the courts—
What a wealth of happiness their turbulence unjoints;
Appealing, higher, higher, higher,
With a desperate desire
To prevail.
New points in lieu of old
Better taken, one is told,
In a clamorous appealing to the wisdom of the gown,
In a mad expostulation with the conscience of the gown,
When judges cannot hear and will not read;
While the pursestring only knows
By the hitching
And the twitching
How the fortune ebbs and flows
Without fail.
From the bosom of the palpitating client,
Becoming less and less reliant,
In the points, points, points,
In the seeming subtle points,
In the points, points, points,
In the ringing of the changes on the points.

ALBERT D. CHANDLER, in the Green Bag.

GALLUSES ON THE WANE

A Court Allows Coats to Be Taken Off, and Belts Predominate.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

Are good old-fashioned galluses in the waning?

A jury of 12 American peers voted "No" in a silent verdict in the United States district court recently. A dissenting opinion was handed down by the court, the prosecuting attorneys and a number of witnesses.

Galluses went on trial during the hearing of the case against John J. Daly, former head of the wholesale stamped envelope department of the postoffice, charged with embezzling $8,488 of government funds.

Daly was convicted, the verdict being returned after two hours' deliberation by the jury. His counsel made a motion for a new trial.

The heat in the courtroom was terrific during the afternoon session. Judge Landis sized up the jurors as they sat sweltering in the jury box and said:

"Gentlemen, it's pretty hot, so I guess we had better take our coats off."

Twelve coats came off in the jury box. Hitched over the shoulders of 10 of the jurymen were galluses of enough hues to make a rainbow. Two jurymen wore vests and did not display their means of supporting 'em.

Then Judge Landis' linen duster was discarded.

A blouser, bloomer-patterned shirtwaist was revealed. A belt was buckled around his middle. He didn't wear suspenders.

"This order goes for the lawyers, court attaches and spectators, too," the court said.

A display of negligee as resplendent as the tail of a peacock was revealed in the court room. Incidentally, it added to the dissenting opinion on galluses, in the silent verdict of Judge Landis.

Elwood G. Godman, special assistant to the attorney general, doesn't wear 'em. Neither does Seward Shirer, assistant district attorney. United States Deputy Marshal Ed Marsales wears a pink pair, about two inches in width. Robert Cantwell, Daly's lawyer, doesn't wear 'em.

Galluses got an even break with the court stenographers, the vote standing 1 to 1. Out of 20 spectators, four kept on their coats. Ten wore belts and six galluses.

Negligee attire in the dignified federal court was a distinct innovation. In permitting coatless jurymen and shirtwaisted lawyers to sit in a trial, Judge Landis has established a precedent in hot weather dress in the government courts in Chicago.

THE FARMER AND HIS AUTOMOBILE

From the Knickerbocker Press.

No less than 82,000 automobiles are owned by the farmers of this country, according to an official of one of the largest motor car companies in the United States. A majority of these machines belong to the grain-growing farmers of the great western agricultural states, but we are told that the tillers of the soil in the east are also purchasing more automobiles this year than last.

As a matter of fact, motor vehicles of various types are rapidly becoming almost a necessity in the transportation of farm products. For instance, every canning factory has many patrons who deliver their produce in automobiles. A man largely interested in the business of preserving vegetables and fruits is quoted as saying: "One of the chief obstacles the canner has always faced in maintaining a sufficient output has been his inability to grow enough raw materials near enough to the factory to bring it from the field, prepare it and get it into the cookers while fresh and crisp. With farmers dependent on horse-drawn wagons for hauling their produce to the canneries stuff would wilt and be useless for canning purposes if grown more than three or four miles from the plant. It has meant restricted acreage on the one side or supplementary plants in scattered centers as the alternative."

This difficulty is being very effectively met by the advent of the motor vehicle of great capacity. Farm produce can be quickly transported to the canneries in an automobile, and now it is being received in perfect condition from distances which were undreamed of a few years ago. The growing radius has been increased many miles, which is not only an advantage to the owners of a preserving plant, but to the farmers of the district, as it greatly enhances the value of farm lands. Perhaps this will have canned goods; certainly this should be the case in the nature of things. Truly the automobile is fast becoming a most useful servant.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

June 30, 1881.

The Gunnison extension of the D. & R. G. was completed over the summit of Marshall Pass.

The Utes in the western part of the state drove several prospectors out of the country.

A Huerfano street barber was arrested for disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons. He had ordered several people off the sidewalk in front of his shop at the point of a revolver.

The residence of the Misses Howbert, on Bijou street, between Tejon and Cascade, was sold to A. F. Carpenter for $2,500.

The grocerymen of Colorado Springs entered into an agreement to close their stores on the Fourth of July.

Seven Brave Navigators

History has always attached much importance to the Number Seven. "Of all numbers there is no one which commanded, in a higher degree, the esteem and reverence of mankind." The Gazette has taken this charmed number, and has woven into stories on a variety of subjects a Series of Sevens, beginning each Monday and continuing during the week.

NO. 5 SIR FRANCIS DRAKE

Sir Francis Drake was the first Englishman to make a voyage around the world. Just as a Spanish queen had supplied Columbus with funds to carry out his heart's desire, so the English queen, Elizabeth, provided Sir Francis with all possible means in whatever undertaking his fancy dictated.

Although the son of a clergyman, young Drake had little interest in anything that would naturally come in the way of a minister's son. When he was very young he was continually about the water, and his first employment was that of a ferry boy. Later he was bound apprentice to the master of a vessel which traded with Holland and France. The master became much attached to him, and dying when Drake was still a young man, bequeathed him the ship. Before he was 20, however, he had sold his vessel and gone as purser on a ship to the Bay of Biscay, and then on a voyage to the Gulf of Guinea.

In 1565, Drake sailed with Lovell to the West Indies, but received very hard treatment from the Spaniards there. Two years later, when he undertook another expedition to the Guinea coast, he lost a number of his vessels, and upon his return home he was so reduced in circumstances that he entered the service of Queen Elizabeth, and for some time we hear nothing of him.

In 1570, he again went to the West Indies with two ships provided mainly by private enterprise. The next year he made another voyage, and it was in February, 1573, that he sighted the Pacific ocean, so named by Balboa more than 50 years before.

Drake returned to England full of enthusiasm about the great ocean west of America, and devoted his share of the wealth acquired during this first independent voyage to fitting out vessels for its exploration. From Elizabeth he obtained some assistance as well as permission to go to the South sea.

November 15, 1573, Drake sailed out of Plymouth harbor on his voyage around the world. He had at his command a fleet of five vessels. They started down the coast of Africa, and then struck across the ocean, first sighting Brazil. They lingered in this vicinity until the following summer, passing through the Straits of Magellan, and entering the Pacific, September 7, 1574. Shortly afterward they were overtaken by a terrific storm. In their attempt to anchor they were driven from the harbor which they sought, and were separated from two of their vessels, one of which they never heard from again, but the other was more fortunate and made her way back to England. He spent some little time along the Peruvian coast, and as far north as the coast of North America, and then striking westward he returned home to England by way of the Cape of Good Hope.

He doubled the cape the middle of June, 1580, and it was full time for them to get back to England, for of the five vessels that started only one remained, and of the several hundred sailors the number of men had diminished to 57. They landed at Plymouth on September 26.

Drake was received with great honors, and it was considered that by discovering and taking possession of New Albion he had rendered great service to the crown. It was in reward for this service that Queen Elizabeth paid him the high honor of visiting him on board the vessel which had borne him on his long voyage, and it was on the occasion of this voyage that she conferred on him the compliment of knighthood.

Here, properly speaking, ends the history of Drake as connected with the new world. His achievements in old world history, so splendid a part of his career, were to follow. But there is no doubt that the foundations of his fame were laid by what he had done on the Spanish Main and west coast of America.

Drake's defeat of the Spanish armada is the brightest annal in English naval history. Having grown old in the service, in 1595 he again started on a voyage across the Atlantic with his old comrade, Sir John Hawkins, to attack the Spanish West Indies, but, having fallen a victim to the climate, he died at Portobello on January 28, 1596.

TOMORROW—WILLIAM DAMPIER

PREFERRED TO BE A QUACK

A quack at a fair near Paris was driving a roaring trade selling nostrums, drawing teeth and beguiling the crowd in the usual ways, says the British Medical Journal. The letter of the French law against unqualified practice is very strong, though, owing to the indifference of the magistrates it is not strictly carried out. This, however, was a particularly flagrant case, and the police felt compelled to intervene. The quack was therefore accosted by the guardians of the law, taken to a tent at the back of his stand and requested to show his diploma. To the stupefaction of the gendarmes he exhibited a perfectly authentic degree of doctor of medicine of the University of Paris. They were profuse in their apologies, which the doctor cut short with an urgent entreaty that they should say nothing about what they had seen. "For," he said, "if the people know that I am a qualified doctor I shall have no more customers."

What the Press Agents Say

"DR JEKYLL AND MR HYDE"

Theodore Lorch will present his greatest success "Dr. Jekyll and Mr Hyde" at the Opera House this afternoon and evening. These two performances will be the only opportunities local playgoers will have of seeing Mr Lorch's most remarkable impersonation of the dual roles of Jekyll and Hyde. The demands for this play have been greater than for any other drama Mr Lorch has ever presented in this city. Seats may be reserved for the night performance. The matinee which begins at 2:30 o'clock sharp is not reserved.

"Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde" is by Robert Louis Stevenson and is perhaps the most famous of all this great writer's efforts. Showing the power of good over evil this drama depicts the great struggle between the better and worse natures of Dr Jekyll. In the play the transformation of Dr Jekyll into Mr Hyde is brought about by a medicine but it cannot be doubted that Stevenson used this medicine merely as a symbol, for his whole idea is simply to show the great danger of allowing evil, even for the moment, to gain possession of man. Naturally, such a drama as this is intense, even theatrical in its story and characters. The actor has unlimited scope in such a play. It taxed the power of Richard Mansfield. Theodore Lorch has won his greatest success in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," but because of the nature of the play and the nerve-racking strain which it makes upon the player, Mr. Lorch does not often produce it.

Tomorrow matinee and night "Arizona" will be presented for the last times at the Opera House by the Lorch Stock company. Next week "The Transgressor" and "St. Elmo" will be presented.

GREAT NOVELTY BILL.

MAJESTIC TOMORROW

From the standpoint of novelty, the Sullivan and Considine bill which opens at the Majestic tomorrow afternoon for a week's engagement is one of the best ever brought to this city, and it is sure not only to please every regular vaudeville patron, but to prove especially enjoyable to those who thirst for the original in entertainment.

No act in any way like that wonderful electrical novelty of the Salambos was ever seen in this city, nor, for that matter, is there any act like it in existence. Electricity and fire seem to be mere playthings with them—food and drink, one might say. The feats they perform with these agents of destruction seem almost supernatural. They pass electricity through their bodies, forming electric lights, and by the same method produce an arc light as brilliant as there is in Colorado Springs. It is an act that baffles the understanding.

Bruce Morgan and his Piccadilly Johnnies present another novelty act, with singing and dancing features that are entirely out of the ordinary. Laughing Billy Link, of minstrel fame, needs no introduction, as he keeps his audiences in a roar from start to finish. Another novelty is charming Blossom Robinson, known as the girl with the mirror dress, in a clever specialty which is a big hit everywhere.

The Majestiscope will present in the exclusive first-run Rex drama, "Twins," one of the prettiest stories ever told on the motion picture canvas. It is full of human interest—in short, is a real drama, and it will prove a great feature. The Majestic orchestra program completes a bill that will delight all.

POPULAR MAJESTIC

SHOW ENDS TONIGHT

Tonight ends the engagement of a bill of high-class vaudeville at the Majestic that has proved very popular, and should be seen by all who enjoy almost anything in the vaudeville line. The list of good things includes S. Miller Kent and company in the comedy playlet "Just Dorothy," Signor Ballerini's wonderful troupe of trained dogs, Walker and Sturm, the marvelous Australian jugglers, Grace De Mar, the charming character artist and comedienne, the motion picture drama "From Death to Life," and the concert orchestra program.

All for 10c, 20c and 30c. Performances 2:30, 7:30 and 9:10 p. m.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers. It is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 29.—The special meeting of stockholders of the Henry Adney Gold Mining company, for the election of seven directors, will be held in this city tomorrow. The meeting is called by Mrs Julia Burke, wife of General Manager M. B. Burke of the company, who is herself a heavy stockeholder. Mrs. Burke further calls for a vote of confidence or indorsement of the management. The Henry Adney mine is at present inactive, Manager Burke having closed down the property to await its drainage through the Roosevelt deep drainage tunnel. The water in the shaft has receded, and it would now be possible to operate the lower levels long submerged.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Aitman Leasing company, holding a long-time lease on the properties of the Free Coinage Gold Mining company, will also be held tomorrow. Directors and officials will be elected. The corporation is a Massachusetts company.

Zoe Lessees Ship.

Atkinson and associates, leasing on the Zoe mine on Beacon hill, were shipping again this morning. The lessees are operating both mine and dump, and a fair grade of ore is going to the valley plants for treatment. The Zoe is owned or controlled by James F. Burns of Colorado Springs.

Modoc Strike Holds

Late development of the new ore body opened up on the Ocean view claim by Superintendent Frankenberg would indicate that the discovery is one of the most important in the mine's record. High-grade ore is coming to surface, and every round of shots to date has shown rather an increase than diminution of value.

Prospectors Anxious.

Cripple Creek prospectors, awaiting action on the part of the powers that be, in charge of the prospectors' fund subscribed by public-spirited citizens of the state, are growing anxious. Many are confident that the foothills of Pikes Peak will bear further prospecting, and if the necessary funds are forthcoming, an extension of the Cripple Creek district or a new field may be found to exist nearer to Colorado Springs than is Colorado's greatest gold camp.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 29.—On a small volume of trading the stock market swung back toward a higher range today, following yesterday's effective raid. The lower scale of prices established yesterday attracted a sufficient amount of buying to lift quotations easily at the outset. Stocks of the coalers and Harriman roads were the strongest, with gains of a point or more. The bull party made no attempt to extend the movement, however, and the market became lifeless.

The end of the session found prices generally higher although the advances were generally fractional. Among the industrials the American Tobacco securities were the strongest. The brisk rise in the preferred stock and the bonds was almost coincident with the issuance of the supreme court's mandate in the tobacco cases.

American smelting was prominent by reason of its strength recovering a part of its recent losses. Toledo, St. Louis and Western was the weak feature of the railroad list, both the common and preferred receding on the report that its dividend policy might be influenced by the suspension of payments of Chicago and Alton preferred which it controls. The official crop report of the St. Paul road, showing the changes of crops along the lines of the company, said considerable damage had been done in the Dakotas; other crop reports were more favorable.

Canadian Pacific showed another large increase in earnings in its May report. Erie's gain of $270,000 in net earnings encouraged the buying movement which has been in progress for several weeks and it increased its recent gain.

The money market remained undisturbed although but one day remains before the advance of July, with its unusually heavy disbursements.

Bonds were firm. American Tobacco fours and Wabash fours were notably strong. Total sales, par value, $4,325,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, June 29.—There was an explosive market today in corn. It looked as though genuine crop damage had been taking place owing to hot winds through a wide sweep of Kansas and Nebraska. As the cereal led all others and closed strong at a net gain of ⅝c@¾c to 1¼c@1⅜c. Oats finished ½c up and wheat irregular 1⅛c off to ¼c advance. Later the figures for hog products varied from a shade decline to a rise of 10c.

The end of the day left corn at the top point of the session. Right from the start the market showed a tendency to bulge. The thought of a return of hot weather conditions caused active buying at the outset and disclosed that the trade was virtually bare of offerings. Some sections of Kansas forward news of corn tasseling when only waist up. At the same time Liverpool dispatches told of prices there advancing on account of scarcity of supplies from the United States. Between the opening and the close September ranged from 59¼c to 60⅛c, closing 1c@1⅛c net higher at 60c@60⅛c. Cash grades were firm. No. 2 yellow finished at 57½c@58c.

Wheat was relatively narrow and quiet. Crop reports northwest and larger receipts southwest counted in favor of the bears. Gradually prices came under the sway of corn and finally averaged a little above last night's level. September fluctuated between 88¾c and 89½c with the close firm ¼c up at 89¼c@¼c.

Despite considerable influential selling, the oats crowd on the whole was bullish. September touched as high and low levels 44⅝c@¾c and 43⅞c, with the close ¾c higher at 44⅜c@½c.

Provision dealers kept an eye on corn and hogs. Pork wound up unchanged to 10c higher than last night. Changes for near products were smaller but followed the same general bent.

The Bread you Bake

Is it always good? Or does it vary from week to week?

The bread we bake is always uniform in quality. It is made under home conditions, by a home receipt, but the conditions and the manner of making are reduced to a science.

Every material used is measured by weight, insures accuracy. Conditions are always the same in our bakery. Our baker's sole business is the making of good bread.

That's why you can order D. W. Smith's homemade and know that you will get just as good bread as the best you can bake at home. There's no uncertainty in ordering D. W. Smith's bread.
